PUBLIC LIBRARIES

Appropriation (Including Nantasket Branch) .....

$2000 00

Expenditures:

Paid James Longley, Treasurer Paul Pratt Memorial Library .....

$1900 00

The statements of James Longley, as Treas. of the Paul Pratt Memorial Library, and of Oliver H. How as Treasurer of the Cohasset Free Public Library, appear as usual under "Libraries"

Paul Pratt Memorial:

Librarians' and janitors' Services .....	$900 00

Other Expenses: Printing, stationery, carting, insurance, etc. ....	158 73
	2153 42

That is, in the case of the Paul Pratt Mem. Library, the town receives the benefit of $253.42 more than it puts in. This state of affairs is made possible by outside income from funds donated by generous patrons and ably managed.

Besides the above, the town has received through the Cohasset Free Public Library, the benefit of the following:

Books .....	$380 78
Other Expenses .....	44 30
	425 08

The above sum is in the income from funds, generously given for the purpose, and, as in the other case, well managed.

To sum up the town receives the benefit from $552.95 over and above appropriation (including the Nantasket Branch, and deducting receipts from fines, etc.,) enabling its citizens to enjoy the privileges of an institution that, for the size of the town has few, if any, superiors in this country today.

This leaves $2, according to State classifications, as a receipt to be credited to this account.

The sums received from the State were entered under "Agency" in this report simply to show plainly both sides of the account with the State, the amount received from Corporation and Bank taxes and the State tax paid.

CONCLUSION.

The accountant wishes to acknowledge with thanks the cheerful assistance rendered him in the discharge of his duties by the various town officials, and to mention particularly the uniform courtesy of the Town Treasurer, who was ever ready to aid in every way the installation of the new system of accounts. The books of the Treasurer and Collector are accurately kept.

It cannot be put too strongly to the citizens of the town that (as much as possible) amounts paid from the treasury should be raised and appropriated. It is impossible to judge accurately just what demands will be made upon the town in any one direction, but the experience of one year should teach us to some degree what course to take the next, with due allowance for steady growth.

Of the amounts paid this year without appropriation, or with very few receipts to offset, "Law," the "P. O. Building at North Cohasset," and the payment to the County of Norfolk for the town's proportionate part of the expense of construction of the bridge at North Cohasset, may be taken as examples of the payment of money without due provision having been made, although, in the latter case, it is undoubtedly due to the Selectmen to state that it was intended to pay this from Corporation Tax, but this account unfortunately happened to be heavily drawn upon this year. An examination of past reports will show that considerable sums have been paid in the past for attorneys' fees — all, perhaps, perfectly legitimate, and often in defense of the town — but without raising and appropriating the money for the payments as far as can be learned. It would seem that at least $500 annually should be raised and appropriated for this purpose, and, further, this appropriation for "Law" can include any sums for suppression of illegal liquor sales, the Selectmen to have entire control. The expenses incurred on the North Cohasset P. O. building are due, undoubtedly, primarily to the fact that when the bridge was widened, and the corresponding road-bed on each side, it necessitated the moving back and raising of this building. The payment to the County of Norfolk should have been foreseen and provided for if it was not intended to take the sum from Corporation Tax.

The Corporation Tax account was overworked during 1910. From this account have been taken Harbor Improvement $5,000, Highways $3,164.04, and the payment to Norfolk County of $2,500, a total of $10,664.04, and all we received from that account for 1910 was $11,214.06 (not counting the payment for 1909 made in 1910), leaving the small balance of $550.02 to be applied to overdrawn accounts or standing indebtedness.

In the matter of the standing debt, although $4,000 was appropriated to pay a note due this year of that amount, which was done, the sum of $5,000 was borrowed in February, 1910, in anticipation of taxes, and has not been repaid, thus leaving the town just $1,000 more in debt than it was at the beginning of the year. If we persist in applying the Corporation Tax to other purposes and do not make better provision by a sinking fund or otherwise for the payment of outstanding debt we can hardly hope for its ultimate reduction or extinction.

It is important that an account similar to "Incidentals" be at the disposal of the Selectmen for emergency payments, but legitimate charges to other accounts should not be entered in it.

Finally, the town should vote to amend the by-laws by making provision for the payment of running expenses of the departments in the "dry time" between January 1st and the annual meeting in March. With apologies and thanks to the town of Winthrop this may be done by inserting an article in the warrant adding to Section 1, Article 3, substantially the following :

" . . . and during the interval between the said first day of January and the time of making the next annual appropriations the Selectmen shall have authority to make expenditures and payments from the treasury from any available funds therein, and the same shall be charged against the said next annual appropriations, but such expenditures and liabilities incurred for any purpose shall not exceed one-sixth (or perhaps one-fourth) the entire amount appropriated for that purpose in the previous year."

The office of the Attorney General has informed me that after the town has adopted this amendment it can then be submitted for the approval of the Attorney General.

Cohasset, Jan. 14, 1911.

REPORT OF SEALER OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES FOR 1910.

The undersigned was appointed August 18, 1910, and from that date to the end of the year, begs to report the following examinations and work :—

	Adjusted.	Sealed.	Condemned.
Platform Scales over 5000 lbs.	1	3	1
Platform Scales under 5000 lbs.	1	12	2
Computing Scales . . . .	1	7	0
All Other Scales . . . .	3	16	7
Weights (counter-balance) .	48	94	1
Dry Measures . . . . .	0	28	0
Liquid Measures . . . . .	0	49	5
Milk Jars . . . . .	0	0	0
Linear Measures . . . . .	0	2	1
	54	211	17

Besides the above, the coal teams of three different dealers have been stopped on the streets and their loads re-weighed by the sealer. In two instances the weight was over—in one case 10 lbs., in the other 70 lbs., in two tons. In the third instance, the weight was exactly right. In order to re-weigh a load of the out-of-town dealer, it was necessary to spend some time in watching for his teams.

Ice teams, pedlers of vegetables and fish and junk dealers have all been held up on the streets and their scales and measures examined, sealed or condemned. The teams of milk dealers have also been stopped and their jars examined and found sealed, except in one instance, where a small proportion of the jars was not sealed. This dealer has promised to save out as he collects them and bring in his unsealed jars for examination; if he does not do this, repeated examinations of his teams will have to be made and unsealed jars seized when found.

To live up to the requirements of the State authorities, the sealer must put considerable time into his work, and an appropriation of $100 for his services and expenses is not excessive. The expenses include team hire, as it is impossible to carry around the weights and apparatus necessary to examine the scales in the various stores without one.

The sealer has therefore asked for an appropriation of $100 for 1911.

In addition to the above, Mr. Paul J. Bates, the former sealer, has reported in the record book, from January 1, 1910, to August 18, 1910, the following:—

	Adjusted.	Sealed.	Condemned.
All Other Scales . . .	0	4	0
Weights . . .	2	3	0
Dry Measures . . .	0	1	0

REPORT OF THE HARBOR IMPROVEMENT COMMITTEE

COHASSET, MASS. March 7, 1910.

The Harbor Improvement Committee has held six meetings the past year. Its most important one was at the Town hall with the Selectmen and citizens interested in the protection of the harbor.

The big storm in December destroyed what was left of the beach protection to our harbor channel. It drove the waters two to three feet deep over the streets surrounding the harbor, damaged the wharves and the highway on the south side and made it imperative that something should be done, and done promptly, if we were to save for Cohasset the harbor shelter and channel it now possesses.

The so-called Bassing Beach and meadow were formerly full protection to our harbor on the easterly side. During the past 30 years this beach, being composed only of sand and pebbles, has steadily receded under the lash of the waves from the northeest gales, and has now been driven back from opposite Bryant's Point southerly to Martin's Island, opening more than 700 feet of our harbor channel to the wash of the sea on high winds and tides.

At this meeting at the Town hall a special committee was appointed to solicit subscriptions, and circulars inviting these have been sent to voters and summer residents of the town, asking that subscriptions be sent to Mr. Charles H. Cousens.

The Massachusetts Harbor and Land Commissioners have been appealed to for their co-operation and the situation has been fully presented to them in various interviews, and notably at a public hearing February 24th.

Although several towns were ahead of Cohasset in application to the Harbor and Land Commissioners, the immediate needs of this harbor were so far recognized by the Commissioners as to give us the first hearing.

The policy of the Commission is to assist only those towns which assist themselves, and several towns have been refused aid upon this this ground.

It was, therefore, planned to attempt to raise between $3,000 and $5,000 by private subscription and to ask the town for an appropriation of $5,000, hoping thereby to secure at least $15,000 from the state, or as much as will fully improve Cohasset harbor and give it breakwater protection.

Later the United States government should be invited to co-operate with such improvements by cutting the outer bar of Cohasset harbor, as contemplated in the original government survey, under which $10,000 was spent from the "River and Harbor" bill upon the inner channel.

If we do not protect what the National government has already done for us, we cannot look for more assistance from that direction.

The result of the co-operative efforts of the Breakwater Committee and the Harbor Improvement Committee has been the receipt and promise of individual subscriptions aggregating about $4,000.

The committees, however, propose to continue this work until the largest possible subscription is obtained, and it is hoped that there will be sufficient in the combined funds from individuals and the Town and the State not only to thoroughly protect the harbor but to extend the channel improvements.

Your Harbor Improvement Committee was also watchful over the enactment of the law regulating noises from motor boats. This law is now upon the statute books.

ACTS OF 1909, CHAPTER 245.

An act to require the use of under-water exhausts or mufflers on certain motor boats.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows :

Section 1. It shall be unlawful to use a boat propelled, in whole or in part, by gas, gasoline or naphtha, unless the same is provided with an under-water exhaust or a muffler, so constructed and used as to muffle in a reasonable manner the noise of the explosion.

Sect. 2. Any person who operates a boat in violation of the provisions of the preceding section shall be punished by a fine of not more than twenty-five dollars.

Approved April 1, 1909.

Aided by your committee negotiations have been opened by the Selectmen of Cohasset with the Selectmen of Scituate in an endeavor to arrange that Cohasset shall have possession of the easterly side of its harbor, including the whole of Bassing Beach, Wood and Bailey's Islands and the meadow surrounding the same as far as the waters of Briggs Harbor and Bailey's Creek.

Briggs' Harbor and Bailey's Creek make natural water boundary in giving the easterly side of the harbor to Cohasset.

The matter of developing the clam flats on the easterly side of Cohasset Harbor must await the time when this becomes a part of Cohasset and can receive the police protection which should be extended from Cohasset Harbor over the land upon the easterly side of the harbor.

It is noted in the last report of this committee that an option until July 1 last was obtained upon the Tilden property at the head of Cohasset Harbor, and the advantage of obtaining this property by private subscription for the benefit of the town was discussed.

As only a few thousand dollars appeared to be in sight from private subscriptions for this object the committee conferred with leading citizens interested in the improvement of the town and accepted their advice to let the matter rest for a time or until some individual could be found who would head the subscription list with a very substantial sum.

Some who were intending to subscribe to this project then devoted their money to the purchase of the Bates wharf and property on the south side of the harbor, and started improvement thereupon, so as to bring the south line of the harbor into appearance more creditable to the town.

The Harbor Committee has received from the town the $350 appropriated for the improvement of the town wharf, and has added thereto private subscriptions of $148 and has expended for this improvement $498.

The Committee has paid on buoys and harbor lights $33.41.

There was a balance on hand at the beginning of the year to the credit of this Committee of $178.37, which has been reduced this year by $33.41, but there are believed to be one or two small bills outstanding.

The Washington appropriation of $500 is still unexpended, Mr. Tilden having generously refused any remuneration from the town to reimburse him for his expenses at Washington in the interest of Cohasset Harbor. It is hoped, however, that this fund will be found useful after the town, state and individual subscriptions have co-operated for the improvement of the harbor.

The Committee would recommend that they be authorized to merge this fund with the unexpected balance of $144.96, and hold the same to their credit on the Town books.

REPORT OF THE COHASSET HARBOR IMPROVEMENT COMMITTEE.

COHASSET, MASS., Jan. 29, 1911.

To this date the Harbor Improvement Committee has, the past year, held seven important meetings, two of them in conjunction with the Breakwater Committee.

Various sub-committees have also held important meetings, reporting results to the main committee, and over a period of many weeks conferences were held almost daily between members of the committee at work upon the points involved in carrying forward the harbor improvements.

Upon the promise of this committee to attempt to raise by private subscriptions between $3,000 and $5,000 toward the construction of a breakwater and the dredging of the harbor, the annual town meeting, March 7, 1910, voted $5,000 to be expended under the direction of the Massachusetts Harbor and Land Commission.

Encouraged, therefore, by the vote of the town and by the prospect of $5,000 from the citizens, the Harbor Commissioners prepared plans for a $36,000 project and offered to contribute $24,000-thereto, provided the citizens and the town would pay into the state treasury $12,000 by July 15.

No money had been paid us although $4,800 had been subscribed. Several citizens thought a town meeting should be called and the additional $2,000 appropriated for this very important work. But there was no time for such action.

The committee immediately and under date of June 27, called upon subscribers to double so far as possible their subscription and send in their money promptly. Several additional subscriptions aggregating $800 were made to the committee conditional upon the enforcement of the state law regulating motor boat mufflers.

The committee were unable to collect this $800, but it succeeded in raising the entire $7,000 by July 15, yet with no margin to spare except in unpaid subscriptions.

The harbor project called for a breakwater 820 feet long from near the channel below Bryant's Point southerly to Bassing Beach, the capping, of granite blocks, to be five feet wide, rising two feet above mean high water and to be supported and backed on both sides with large broken stone, the total cost to be under $10,000.

The dredging plans called for the removal of 101,000 cubic yards to make an anchorage basin in the main part of the harbor 1,100 feet long, 300 feet wide and six feet deep at mean low water, and a channel 100 feet wide and four feet deep at mean low water, a distance of about 700 feet therefrom to the Town Landing.

Contract was made by the State Commission for the building of the breakwater at $2.13 per ton and this was sufficiently advanced in 1910 to demonstrate its usefulness and effectiveness this winter. It is under contract to be finished in 1911.

The engineers had figured upon a maximum for the dredging of 25 cents per yard, but competitive bidding among idle dredgers brought the price down to 14½ cents per yard and the dredging began July 20.

The dredging contractor immediately appealed to the State Commission to have part of the appropriation used to cut the Whitehead Bar in order that tugs and scows might move in and out of the harbor with large loads and at other times than full tide.

The commission declined to deflect the appropriation from the original project, but offered engineering supervision and plans for the cutting of the bar if the Harbor Improvement Committee desired to undertake it.

The cutting of this bar it was estimated would ordinarily cost $10,000. Mr. J. P. O'Riorden, the dredging contractor, after several conferences, finally offered to do it for $3,650, and give the committee time to collect the money, provided he could do this work first, as it would enable him to dredge the harbor to so much greater advantage. The committee authorized the signing of the contract and the borrowing of money, if necessary, upon their individual names.

Under advice from the State engineers, the channel through Whitehead Bar was deflected slightly to the northwest in order to follow the natural flow of the water course as it rounds Whitehead, and to reach Sutton Rock Hole by the shortest route.

Under this contract a channel was dredged six feet deep at mean low water, 60 feet wide on the bottom, from Sutton Rock Hole through Whitehead Bar, a distance of more than 2,000 feet and straight through the flats inside of Whitehead, making a straight channel south of Whitehead.

Again some of the citizens and subscribers protested against being called upon for so much money and declared that as individuals had paid in $7,000 against the Town's $5,000, the Town ought to be called upon to vote more towards these improvements. The committee, however, decided, as it had a balance of unpaid subscriptions that it would go forward and endeavor to raise the entire money.

A fourth circular was, therefore, sent out under date of July 25. The direct response to this circular was but $620, but personal appeals, telegrams, letters and telephone calls continued to bring results and encouraged the committee.

Toward the end of the season the committee succeeded in joining the Bryant estate and the Crehore estate with the Cohasset Yacht Club in a subscription, under which the Bryant estate contributed to the club a five-year lease at a nominal rental of the ground on which the yacht club building stands; the Crehore estate sold for a nominal sum an adjoining small tract of marsh land through the committee to the yacht club, and the yacht club borrowed of its members and issued bonds therefor, and paid over to the Harbor Improvement Committee $1,000.

These arrangements were conditional upon the northwestern part of the harbor being dredged six feet deep at mean low water by Bryant's Point and the yacht club landing, the dredged area to be not less than 200 feet on the westerly side nor less than 300 feet on the easterly side. All conditions were complied with, and plans are now under way to enlarge the usefulness of the yacht club both on land and water.

This dredging in the northwesterly part of the harbor was not undertaken until after conference with the State Board of Health and a determination to insure an outlet for the sewage which passes under Margin street into this section of the harbor.

A narrow channel six feet deep was, therefore, dredged for about 200 feet further west, which should be an insurance of a free flow for sewage until such time as proper sewerage arrangements are made in Cohasset.

If the pollution of the waters of Cohasset Harbor could be prevented, as it should be, there is no reason why herring and smelts and alewives should not be abundant in the town. In this connection it should be noted that under the law of 1910 torching for fish in the waters of Cohasset, Scituate, Duxbury and Plymouth is now allowed only by permit from the Selectmen.

Your committee collected from private subscriptions of the citizens and summer residents of Cohasset and of the Glades club-house $11,620, which was paid in as follows :

There are still some unpaid subscriptions amounting to less than $300.

Mr. Thomas W. Lawson has expressed a willingness to subscribe to the harbor improvements but would prefer to contribute to some distinctive improvement, such as a beacon or lighthouse, and this matter is now in negotiation between Mr. Lawson and the Harbor Committee and between the Harbor Committee and the Washington authorities.

Messrs. Cousens and Barron have paid out more than $300 in expenses, besides doing the major part of the work in raising the subscriptions and collecting the money, and bringing to fruition the negotiations between the Harbor and Land Commission and the Dredging Company. Many days were spent on these matters

Mr. Louis I. Goodwin of the Breakwater Committee was very helpful in securing subscriptions, and he was joined to the Harbor Improvement Committee.

If the bills of the Cohasset Harbor Improvement Committee expenditures are finally paid by the town, the cash on hand for future harbor improvements will be increased by at least $300. Messrs. Cousens and Barron have also paid out money in connection with these improvements for which no bills will be rendered.

It may surprise many to learn that from the beginning this Committee has received less than $500 from the Town for Harbor expenses. Without our request two special appropriations have been voted by the town to be spent by this Committee on the Lawrence Wharf and Town Landing, which appropriations were augmented by the Committee through private subscriptions. Members of the Committee have contributed to putting in and taking out buoys at times at their own expense.

September 9, 1905, the sum of $500 was appropriated by the Town for the use of the Committee. At the March meeting in 1910, the Committee reported a balance on hand from this appropriation of $144.96. They recommended that this balance, together with $500, which had been voted for Washington expenses and which had been left untouched, be united and that this sum of $644.96 be carried forward to be expended under their discretion. Mr. Joseph E. Grassie moved that the report of the Committee be accepted and printed; that the same Committee serve another year and that the unexpended $644.96 be left with them to be expended under their discretion. This motion, after discussion, was carried and the Town later proceeded to pay the bills of the Committee under this vote. After the payment of $82.58 on this account by the Town, for the moving of buoys, care of lights and printing, it was discovered that the Town Clerk had not recorded the entire vote, because in writing up his records he had found a pencil mark through the appropriation line and neither he nor the Moderator nor anybody else had any recollection as to how this pencil line striking out the appropriation came to be on the vote as written out by Mr. Grassie. The Committee endeavored to correct the matter at a special September meeting called to consider the park matter. The matter was fully explained to the Finance Committee but not to the Town meeting and the attempt to correct the record here fell through by a vote of 31 to 46; only 77 persons voting.

The Committee next took legal advice as to how to correct the record and found that it could probably do it through mandamus of the court. The Committee did not believe it was worth while to attempt this or to establish the precedent of correcting records by such proceedings.

The Committee has been notified that this $82.58 already paid by the Town under this vote will be charged to incidentals and that the balance will have to await adjustment in "listed bills," or future Town appropriations.

The thanks of the committee are due to Mr. William Whitney Lewis for sketches, designs and specifications for a miniature Minot's Ledge light-house or beacon which may be erected in the future upon the channel end of the harbor breakwater. Steel rails have been purchased by the committee and will be set in the end of this breakwater under the direction of the State Engineer to secure a foundation for such a structure.

After the breakwater is finished and settled such a structure of artistic appearance can be built here and connected with the town electric light service at an estimated cost of $3000.

Two permanent light-house structures, which should be of the same general design and appearance, ought also to be built some time in the future to carry our present red lights on the west side of the channel.

The thanks of the Committee are also due its chairman, Daniel N. Tower, for surveys and plans in connection with the harbor improvements.

Mr. W. O. Souther of the Board of Selectmen undertook the adjustment of the motor boat muffler question and in conjunction with Mr. J. Pennington Gardiner, subscriptions were raised to assist Mr. Souther in equipping with mufflers the fishing boats that caused most of the early morning disturbance.

The Harbor Improvement Committee therefore turned over to Mr. Gardiner the balance of its muffler fund noted in previous annual reports, amounting to $46.74, which together with subscriptions and cash were turned over to Mr. Souther as follows :

Muffler fund	.	.	.	.	.	$46 74
J. P. Gardiner	.	.	.	.	.	10 00
C. L. Bremer	.	.	.	.	.	10 00
H. H. Gay	.	.	.	.	.	15 00
W. A. Faxon	.	.	.	.	.	15 00
B. Preston Clark	.	.	.	.	.	25 00
Dr. J. L. Bremer	.	.	.	.	.	25 00
Total	.	.	.	.	.	$146 64

Mr. Souther arranged with the Selectmen for the payment of $85 to equip three boats experimentally, and these working with apparent satisfaction, Mr. Souther contracted for $189 to equip other fishing boats. Toward this latter item of $189, the above cash and subscriptions of $146.74 have been turned over to Mr. Souther by Mr. Gardiner, both of whom have taken commendable interest in this matter.

The Washington appropriations under the River and Harbor bill were made this year under a plan of continued improvements already begun by the National Government and to bar out new undertakings, but through Representative Weeks a clause has been inserted in the River and Harbor bill providing for survey for the extension of the Cohasset Harbor improvements northerly with a view to a straight and enlarged channel from Cohasset Harbor northward between Hogshead Rock and West Shag.

The red lights which the Committee has maintained on the Harbor channel for some years have enabled boats to make the Harbor at night from far outside on a straight course clear of all rocks. Efforts must be continued to extend and perfect this channel.

In the River and Harbor bill now passing through Congress, the Secretary of War is directed to cause preliminary examinations and surveys at Cohasset Harbor: "With a view to the construction of a channel one hundred and fifty feet in width and eight feet in depth."

The Harbor Improvement Committee would, therefore, strongly recommend that the Town, the Citizens and the State, continue to co-operate in 1911 with a view to improving and lighting the main channel between the harbor and the new Whitehead channel. This channel has not yet been cleared to a depth of six feet at mean low water. It has a depth of about five feet opposite Bryant's float stage and Mr. Owen Bryant has offered to contribute $1,000 toward the dredging at this point, such dredging to cover the channel and the Bryant basin.

The shoal between the two channels inside of Whitehead should also be taken out. These two points will be found very useful in beating up the channel and another beating point might also be dredged on the easterly side of the channel.

10,000 cubic yards should be taken out off the Government wharf in front of the deep water (14 feet) at the mouth of Bound Brook thus clearing substantially the entire main basin of the harbor. Some little rock blasting should be done in the channel off the wharves if it can be done at a moderate cost.

The harbor west of the Lawrence wharf was found too rocky to permit of the extension of the dredging in this direction.

A proposition has been submitted by Mr. M. S. Grassie for a basin and landing for fishermen at Bailey's Creek, but ledges may prevent any extensive dredging here.

Mr. Salvador offered to sell his shore frontage on Bailey's Creek at cost to the Town for a fishermen's landing, but the owner of the needed adjoining property on Parker Ave. declined to join in sale to the Town.

The Committee had hoped that plans for a fishermen's wharf and landing at Parker Ave. might be inaugurated.

The Town appropriated $500 to build a shelter on Lawrence wharf and $300 for a Town float and run, both sums to be expended under the direction of this committee. Contract was entered into with L. D. Willcutt & Sons, under which they were paid $500 for the construction of the shelter, any cost beyond this amount to be furnished by the Willcutts. Their disbursements as filed with this committee were $591.70 and they have yet to paint the roof a dull red color when it is sufficiently seasoned. Mr. Joseph N. Willcutt has also expressed a willingness to assist in shrubbery planting upon the wharf.

The float stage and run were built at an expense of $263.03 and the balance, together with $31.03 from the Town was paid to George Jason for $68 worth of filling, making the wharf and float stage accessible. The wharf still needs filling and grading between the shelter and the street and the Committee has asked the Superintendent of Streets to dump street sweepings here; but it has doubts of the benefit of sweepings from oiled streets. Future action should be taken to finish this wharf and to make regulations for its use.

The importance of Cohasset Harbor is bound to increase immensely in the future provided there is the proper co-operation between the citizens and the Town.

The Cape Cod Ship Canal is to be finished next year and a large number of commercial and pleasure craft will thereafter pass nearer to our harbor.

ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE SELECTMEN

Together with the Reports of the
ASSESSORS, OVERSEERS OF THE POOR, TOWN
TREASURER, TAX COLLECTOR AND AUDITORS.

For the Year Ending Dec. 31, 1910.

REPORT OF THE SELECTMEN.

---

We respectfully call the attention of the voters to the financial report prepared by the Town Accountant, appointed in accordance with the by-laws adopted by the Town ; also to the several reports of the Collector and Treasurer, School Committee and others having in charge the spending of the annual appropriations. We are pleased to report the finishing up of the widening of the bridge and roadway at the junction of boundary between Cohasset, Hingham and Hull, the expense on the part of Cohasset being paid from the Corporation Tax. Also that an automatic gate has been placed at the bridge which will control the water in Straits Pond the same as the one at Mill Bridge, which regulates the flowage in the river. It seems to your Selectmen the flowage at Straits Pond will not be troublesome or expensive in the future. This gate was built by Henry E. Brennock, who also built the gate at Mill Bridge, and the work was done in a substantial manner.

REPORT OF THE OVERSEERS OF THE POOR.

Our assistance to the outside poor and Cohasset Home shows some little decrease from last year. We have put in considerable time visiting the poor to learn the existing conditions, and where warranted have cut down expenditures. It is our aim to investigate very carefully every case coming to our attention.

The Cohasset Home is under new management, and from what we have seen of our new Superintendent we feel justified in saying that the inmates will receive as good and courteous treatment as has been given them in the past. The Superintendent is fully in accord with our desire to lessen expenses, and we look forward to improved conditions financially. The number of inmates for the whole or a portion of the year has been nine, of whom seven continue at the close of the year. Two persons have died in the home the past year.

The whole number of individuals benefited by aid out of the home, including those with a settlement here who have been aided elsewhere, is 82. Of this number 10 in two families had no settlement in Cohasset, and the expenditures on their account, amounting to $277.48, will be refunded by the Towns of their settlement.

An itemized statement of the expenditures of this department will be found in the Accountant's report.

Town Physician: Dr. George Osgood was appointed to attend the poor.

REPORT OF
THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

REPORT OF SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

During the year 1910 the schools of the town maintained a high standard equal at least to that of former years.

There is submitted herewith the statistical report of the Superintendent of Schools with reports made to him by the Principal of the High School and the Supervisors of departmental work, also an estimate of the amount which will be required for the support of schools and conveyance of pupils for 1911.

In the annual reports for the last two years your committee has called attention to the heating and ventilating conditions in the Osgood School. The present system, installed in 1891, has given good service but it is now old and inadequate and must be replaced. The heating problem is comparatively simple but state requirements compel positive ventilation. A given amount of fresh air must be provided for each pupil.

Your committee has given much time and thorough investigation to this subject, has consulted the school departments of many cities and towns and has visited schools where different systems were in operation. Plans were drawn last year for a gravity system as being most economical, but further investigation led to the opinion that such a system would not work effectively under certain conditions.

Your committee is now unanimously in favor of a Plenum Fan system, which will guarantee positive ventilation under all conditions of weather and the cost of installation will not be much in excess of the gravity system. By the Fan system fresh air is drawn from outside the building, forced over heaters to give it the proper temperature and thence through ducts into the different rooms, each room having a separate duct. Vents are provided in each room for vitiated air to escape as it is being constantly replaced by fresh air.

The heating now done by a number of hot air furnaces will be provided by two low pressure sectional boilers and there will be direct radiation in every room. The Richard D. Kimball Co., heating and ventilating engineers, have prepared plans and specifications, bids will be obtained and it is hoped that at the Town meeting in March your committee will be instructed to have the proposed system installed during the summer vacation.

Through the generous interest of two of our citizens, your committee was able to award scholarships of $100 each to two members of the High School graduating class of 1910; the conditions of which were stated in the last town report. They were given to Miss Hazel Bates who has entered Mt. Holyoke College, and Miss Harriet Ethel Reamy who has entered Simmons College. It is hoped that the scholarship privilege may conduce to greater ambition for higher education among our High school students.

At the last annual Town meeting $1000 was appropriated for the erection of fire escapes on the Osgood School building. During the summer these were erected under the direction of the school committee by the W. A. Snow Iron Works Co., at a total cost of $820.

The committee gratefully acknowledges the gift of supplement 1 of the National Cyclopædia of American Biography, given in memory of Joseph Bates Lincoln.

Our estimate of the amount which will be required to meet the expenses of the current year is as follows :

For Superintendent . . .	$750 00
Teachers . . .	12,500 00
Janitors . . .	950 00

Fuel . . . . .	$1,400 00
Repairs and supplies . . .	1,500 00
Miscellaneous . . . . .	650 00
Books, etc. . . . .	1,000 00

Total . . . . .	$18,750 00
Conveyance of pupils . . .	$3,250 00

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the School Committee of Cohasset:—

The regulations of the Public Schools require the Superintendent to present at the end of the year an annual report of the condition of the schools for the school year preceding. In compliance with this requirement I present to the Committee the following report upon the work of the school year 1909-1910, and with it the reports of the High School Principal and the Supervisors.

Since my last report there has been no radical change in the organization and management of the schools. We have endeavored to increase the efficiency of our work by strengthening whatever seemed to need special attention, and by keeping in mind at all times the individual needs of the pupils.

A prominent educator has said: "The most important duty of the Superintendent is to so organize the work of the schools that his direct interference is rarely needed. In other words, when the least is being heard from the schools they are doing their best work."

Our teachers have worked together most earnestly for the best interests of the schools and have shown true professional spirit. They have been ready to consider the new in education and to test it without prejudice.

Grading and promotion have received most careful attention, and pupils are advanced whenever they show ability to do the work of the next higher division or grade. Individual teaching has had a place in every class room, and the small number of pupils who have been obliged to repeat a grade shows that this form of instruction brings excellent results. In the Osgood School the grades are large, and it is necessary to systematize individual instruction by forming groups of pupils according to their ability and readiness to learn.

We have found that about seventy-five per cent. of the pupils are able to prepare their lessons in less than the time assigned, while twenty-five per cent. require assistance in order to make equal preparation, using the entire time. By grouping the pupils and adjusting the time the teacher makes it possible for all to do the work well.

ATTENDANCE.

The total number of pupils enrolled in the schools for the school year ending June 24, 1910, was 469. The average membership was 435; the average attendance, 403; the percentage of attendance, 93.33.

There were 74 pupils in the High School, 366 in the grades of Osgood School, and 29 in the Beechwood Primary School.

There were only five cases of truancy, — all of these were in the grades of the Osgood School and among pupils who live within a reasonable walking distance of the school building. The present truant law makes it impossible for truancy to exist to any large extent, if the truant officers do their duty. If their health will permit, all pupils between seven and fourteen years of age are required to attend school every day that the schools are in session. The Superintendent is authorized to excuse cases of necessary absence. We have endeavored to enforce the law without working hardship upon the parents whom we have found ready in most cases to co-operate with us. Formerly pupils were excused for absence when they brought excuses from their parents, but we can accept no excuse for any cause other than ill-health, except when the Superintendent finds that the absence was unavoidable.

While the operation of the truant law deprives parents of the assistance of their children at times when such assistance seems necessary, the best interests of the children and of society demand a rigid enforcement.

In previous reports I have called attention to the tendency to allow home and social interests to interfere with school duties.

During the school year school duties must be first. The pupil's health and educational advancement depend largely upon the careful regulation of his activities out of school. The child who has had undue excitement and insufficient sleep as a result of participating in the social interests of his elders is in no condition to do his school work. The child is a social being and must begin at an early age to take part in the social life of those about him, but we should bear in mind at all times that his interests and activities should be those of a child.

TEACHERS.

There are employed in the schools fifteen regular teachers, three supervisors and three unassigned assistants. Four of this number have been appointed during the year to take the places of teachers who have resigned.

The following table shows the names of those who have resigned and of the new teachers :

RESIGNED.	APPOINTED.	DATE.
Bertha Bray, Assistant in High School.	Marion C. Chandler.	April
Mabelle I. MacGregor, Grade IX.	Inez A. Rogers.	September
Lula M. Matthews, Grade VII.	Marion F. Stratton.	September
Mary E. Herbert, Sup- ervisor of Drawing.	Maude E. Black.	February

Two of the vacancies occurred during the school year and two during the summer vacation. Three resigned to accept positions elsewhere and one retired from the profession.

Miss Marion C. Chandler was graduated from Mount Holyoke College in 1903, and had taught one year in Connecticut and four years in the Plymouth High School. She spent the last summer vacation in Europe, studying French and German.

Miss Maude E. Black is a graduate of the Massachusetts Normal Art School, class of 1905, and had been employed as Supervisor of Drawing at Dalton and at Wakefield.

Miss Inez A. Rogers is a graduate of Wellesley, class of 1909, and had taught for a year.

Miss Marion F. Stratton is a graduate of Wellesley, class of 1909. Last year she was a teacher at Monson Academy.

The schools lose in the efficiency of teaching whenever there is a general change of teachers. We have been fortunate in retaining the greater part of our teachers, and when resignations have occurred we have been able generally to secure good teachers.

The larger towns and cities near Boston are constantly on watch for teachers who show ability and skill in other schools, and we must expect to lose some of our best teachers after they have done good work here. It is most unfortunate when vacancies come during the school year, and teachers should hesitate about making such changes.

THE HIGH SCHOOL.

Seventy-four pupils were registered in the High School, and five regular teachers were employed. Fifteen pupils were graduated in June. The school has acquired the certificate right from the New England College Entrance Examination Board, which shows that our graduates who have entered college were well prepared.

It has been our purpose to make it possible for our pupils to gain a thorough college preparation. In order to do this it has required much work on the part of the teachers. The training in the ninth grade helps the work of the High School. Pupils have an elementary knowledge of Latin and Mathematics upon graduation from the Grammar School, and are ready to begin High School subjects without loss of time.

In recent years Greek has not been required for entrance to college, and we have not taught it. German has taken its place. To some of us who had six or more years of Greek in preparatory school and college the passing of the language from the school course was viewed with some misgivings, but we have come to realize the wisdom of the change.

From the time of the Renaissance to the beginning of the present century Greek held a firm place in the school curriculum, because of the general belief among educated men that it was distinctively a cultural and disciplinary subject—unapproached by any other.

In later years the cultural claim failed, because very few pupils succeeded in gaining such a complete mastery of the language that they were able to read it without serious effort, and the theory of formal discipline was successfully attacked. The benefit gained from a knowledge of the Greek form of expression and from the classical allusions was made the ground for a final stand, but it was shown conclusively that this could be gained more successfully through the study of History and Literature.

The controversy resulted in the advancement of the study of Modern Languages, which are required for entrance to all colleges, and in a wider scope for the departments of History and Literature.

Our High School has kept pace with the best schools in point of courses offered and in the thoroughness of the teaching.

The industrial and vocational side is being developed gradually. We have an excellent business department, well equipped and well directed. The graduates find ready employment, and fill their positions to the satisfaction of their employers.

Manual Training has been extended so as to include the freshman class of the High School, and I recommend that the work be further extended. Domestic Science should be considered in the near future. Twenty-nine boys and forty-five girls were registered last year. Eleven boys and thirteen girls were between thirteen and fifteen years of age, and eighteen boys and thirty-two girls were over fifteen.

More boys than girls leave school before completing the course because they have more opportunities to go to work.

Your attention is called to the report of the High School Principal which deals with certain phases of high school organization that are of interest to all who are concerned with the management of schools.

The following is a list of the High School graduates of June, 1910 :

Harold Fenno Barnes,	Edith Daphne James,

THE GRADES.

In the nine grades of the Osgood School there were 366 pupils. In the three grades at Beechwood there were 29. The statistical tables found on the following pages of this report show the distribution of the pupils by grades.

Throughout the year the grade work was carried on in a very satisfactory manner. The work was systematized and made to meet the needs of the pupils. In the first five grades there was much drill work and constant review. In the higher grades much stress was placed on the application of knowledge already acquired to interpret the new.

Only good teachers have the art of making use of the pupil's own acquirements in directing his activities. The aim of all teaching should be to expand the outlook of the child while employing to the fullest extent what he already knows. Our pupils have a large fund of first-hand information when they enter school because they have been fortunate enough to have lived in the country where Nature teaches the most valuable lessons. The language work is made effective by drawing upon this fund. Reading is now taught more scientifically than ever before, and the pupils soon acquire the power to gain information from books suited to their understanding.

We have excellent primary teachers, who have had long experience in teaching young children, and the methods employed are those that tend to develop power to acquire and retain knowledge. The memory is exercised constantly through association of facts and experiences. In the grammar-grades the pupils learn to study and compare.

It is no easy task to hold the attention of forty-five active children, but the greater part of our teachers are able to do it without seeming effort. Without good discipline the school shows a great waste of time and energy. Teachers who cannot organize their classes so that pupil activities are directed toward learning and accomplishing all that is reasonably expected must give way to those who have the knowledge and skill. Class-room management is a most important part of a teacher's professional training.

Eighteen pupils were graduated from the Grammar School in June, and all of them entered the High School in September. The following is a list of graduates :

Frances Buffum,	Austin William Bates,
Arthur James Bandura,	Elizabeth Cole,
Ellen Sewall Collier,	Margaret Louise Donovan,
Dorothy Marguerite Gracia,	Ethel Roberta Hare,
Frank Thomas Jason,	William Edward Kinsley,
Mabel Alma Lovell,	George Henry Nickerson,
John Barry Pearson,	Evelyn Mildred Reamy,
Elizabeth Bernice Reilly,	Helen Trott,
Julia Elizabeth Vickery,	Clifton Howard Whall.

MEDICAL INSPECTION AND HYGIENE.

The school physician has given close attention to the health of the children and has rendered valuable service. Whenever there has been any indication of disease or defects requiring treatment the parents have been notified, and the suggestions have been received more gratefully than formerly when the requirements of the law were less generally understood. In nearly every case the advice of the regular family physician has been sought with the result that the health of the children has been improved.

In accordance with the provisions of Section 6, Chapter 502, Acts of 1906, tests were made of the eyesight and hearing of all the pupils. The following is a statement of the results of tests:—

Number of pupils examined	.	.	476
Cases of defective sight	.	.	38
Cases of defective hearing	.	.	8
Parents notified	.	.	17

The purpose of the school test of vision and hearing is :—

1. To find out which pupils have defects that may interfere with their school work.

2. To be able to notify the parents of such pupils that a careful medical examination is needed.

Cases of defective sight and hearing should be treated by eye and ear specialists. It is the business of the oculist to determine the cause of defects of the eye and to prescribe treatment, while the optician is concerned in fitting the glasses according to the directions of the oculist. Too often parents take the advice of opticians and buy glasses much as they would hardware. In a large number of cases glasses are not needed, and permanent injury may result from their use.

We have drinking fountains in both buildings, and paper towels have taken the place of linen. The janitors use sawdust moistened with a solution of formaldehyde in sweeping the floors. Moist dusters are used, and the dust evil has been reduced to a minimum.

The great problem that confronts us is the lack of ventilation in the Osgood school. The system now in use is inadequate, and the air is foul during the months when the windows have to be closed.

When the system was installed the number of pupils was less, and the third floor was used as an assembly hall. The commercial department is now located on the third floor, and two laboratories are used for recitation purposes as well as for Chemistry and Physics.

Radical changes in the ventilating system should be made at once. The health of the children is of prime importance, and we are bound to safeguard it at any cost.

MANUAL TRAINING AND DRAWING.

The manual training department has grown in importance and usefulness. The room in the basement was further improved during the summer vacation by the installation of electric lights, so that it is possible to work in any part of the room. The equipment has received some additions, and plenty of material has been provided.

The pupils have shown great interest in their work, and good progress has been made. We have tried to unite the teaching of drawing with manual training. Pupils design objects for construction. This is particularly true of the advanced classes.

The girls of the freshman class of the High School have done some excellent work in metal. The Supervisors of Manual Training and of Drawing have labored earnestly, and their reports deserve a careful reading.

MUSIC.

Under the direction of the Supervisor the teachers have taught the music intelligently and effectually. The pupils sing well in all the grades and classes. In June the public has an opportunity to judge of the degree of success in this department. The regular work of the year is a much better index of what is being accomplished. New music books have been provided for the High School and for several of the grades.

SEWING.

While the boys of the higher grades are occupied with Manual training, the girls of the same grades have sewing, under the direction of a regular teacher. This plan has worked well, and good results have been obtained. During the coming year we hope to develop this department more fully.

REPORT OF THE HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL.

To the Superintendent of Schools and the School Committee, Cohasset, Mass.:

At your request I submit the following report. I shall discuss the efficiency of the High School, a weakness in our school system and our need of physical training:

The test of efficiency usually applied to High Schools today is based on their success in fitting boys and girls to pass college entrance examinations, or what is the same thing, their attainment of such efficiency as to merit the approval of the College Entrance Examination Board and being allowed the privilege of entering pupils on Certificate from the Principal of the School. On this basis the Cohasset High School may claim to be an efficient institution. Since 1904 the school has successfully passed twenty-two pupils into the colleges and normal schools, besides receiving this last year the approval of the College Entrance Board. This in itself is not a bad test to apply to any school. College examinations today are of such a grade that a school must have an efficient teaching force and a substantial equipment in order to meet them successfully.

But this test is a narrow one, and is not in any sense the true test of the efficiency of the school. What proportion of the number of pupils entering the school graduate? In other words, find in the school an influence, a field of labor and a companionship which holds them in the school. What percentage of the graduates have been definitely helped by the four years spent in the school? And by definitely helped I mean, how many have been given an equipment which has enabled them to enter directly into some other occupation? On this basis the High School may lay claim to a greater efficiency. For if we add to the graduates who have been successfully fitted for college the pupils who have been definitely fitted for business by the Commercial Department of the school we find a very large percentage of the pupils are definitely helped. But even this is not a true basis on which to reckon the efficiency of a school, for it does not take into consideration the pupils who have failed to enter the high school, or having entered fail to complete the course. This loss is about fifty per cent., varying of course from year to year. Now, what is the cause of this tremendous loss? Is it too high a standard, aimless teaching and lack of encouragement on the part of teachers? I think not. To a great extent the cause of the loss may be attributed to a weakness in our school system, not only in Cohasset but in our public schools in general. The aim of all school work up to the time of the introduction of the Commercial Course was purely cultural.

In the early days of the Commonwealth, little training was required to carry on the meagre industries. It did not take long to learn the science of agriculture in those days. It required no school to teach a boy to become a sailor or a fisherman. Naturally, education was along lines purely cultural. How persistently we have clung to that sort of training. How slow we have been, in comparison to the rapid progress we have made as a commercial and industrial nation, to take up the vocational side of education. The last decade has witnessed a definite step toward closing this gap in our educational fabric. In the future, schools that are to reach any high state of efficiency must adapt themselves to meet the needs of all the pupils. We have provided adequately for the boy or girl who has the means and the desire to pursue an educational career, but we have made very inadequate provisions for those who must begin to earn their livelihood much earlier. For the girl who cannot go to college or who does not wish to become a business assistant, but who has strong home making instincts, a course in household economics should be instituted. Such a course could be added to our present curriculum without impairing its efficiency. For the boy who has not the means or ambition to go to college, or who has no aptitude for commercial life, some progress should be made toward teaching the beginnings of a trade. To what extent vocational training can be made a part of the present High School curriculum is still a bone of contention. Its need is admitted. To the solution of the problem the Board of Education and the community should give its best thought. Of course, the question of cost is one which always must be considered, but would not the results be worth the extra expense.

When we teach a girl to become a good home-keeper, and when we start a boy in the way of a trade which enables him to support a family, we have taken a long step toward individual self government, and the reduction of our state tax, much of which goes for support of our correctional and penal institutions. Now what we save at one end we lose at the other, plus unhappiness and misery.

As regards the taking of some definite action in the way of physical education, I think there can be no question. Modern high schools are usually equipped with a gymnasium and a course in physical training is incorporated into the curriculum. Here in Cohasset it would be an impossibility to have a gymnasium in the school building, but may we hope that, at some time, we may have a building for that purpose, adequately equipped, where boys and girls may receive not only physical exercise, but what is as important, instruction in hygiene, not omitting sex hygiene. It is the duty of a community, not only to its boys and girls but to itself, to provide for the training of their bodies as well as their minds. Strengthening the character of the boys and girls by providing for a well rounded development, means strengthening the character of the community. Physical training is a panacea for many of the evils to which youth is heir, and while it may not eliminate these evils, it may allay their force by developing such a character in the boys and girls, that they scoff at anything unwholesome or unclean.

In concluding, permit me to thank you for your kindly co-operation and support.

Respectfully submitted,

STANLEY C. LARY,

Principal of the Cohasset High School.

REPORT OF THE SUPERVISOR OF MUSIC.

MR. NELSON G. HOWARD,

Superintendent of Schools:

DEAR SIR:—In compliance with your request, I have the honor to submit my annual report.

The work of the year was marked by no special incident and there is little to report. Our course of study, while sufficiently flexible to allow changes that seem advantageous, is now so well arranged that the work of each class is progressive and cumulative. We cover a good deal of ground with thoroughness and obtain results that are equal to those secured in the best schools I have visited.

We have emphasized strongly the matter of voice training and have not neglected other important phases of the work. As is the case everywhere, not only in schools but among otherwise good musicians, our weakness is in rhythm, but I believe we are justified in thinking that we are gaining in that respect.

The great amount of splendid material that has been published within the last few years makes it easier to interest pupils than it formerly was. The introduction of the new books in the High School has quickened the interest and increased the pleasure of the students and made for improvement in their singing.

I am grateful for the kind words of appreciation of the work of the pupils when they have sung in public and for the hearty co-operation and helpful interest of the teachers.

Very respectfully yours,

EDMUND F. SAWYER,

Supervisor of Music.

REPORT OF THE SUPERVISOR OF DRAWING.

MR. NELSON G. HOWARD,

Superintendent of Schools.

DEAR SIR:

I have been teaching in your schools long enough now to feel that I know what has been done in drawing, and, as my plan of work is similar to what has been done in the past, we can gradually raise the standard of the pupil's work. The children show great interest in their work and many of them have obtained very commendable results.

In every course in drawing the aim should be to give:

1. Power to sketch any simple object from nature or imagination.

2. Power to read and to make simple working drawings and diagrams, and the use of the common drawing instruments—the ruler, compass and drawing board, with T square and triangles.

3. A sense of good design as embodied in construction and decoration.

4. An acquaintance with and an appreciation of good examples of drawing, painting, architecture and sculpture.

Drawing is taught in the schools as a means of expression, and because of its close relation and definite value to the life and work of the people.

It is "a tool to use." Co-ordination with the rest of the school work is absolutely necessary for success, and it is this co-ordination which prevents drawing from being a subject apart from the school course.

There is no walk in life in which a knowledge of the use of the pencil would not aid and facilitate the work in hand. It is this knowledge and ability to use the pencil that the mechanic wishes he had, that the professional and scientific man finds indispensable.

It must be remembered that we are not trying to make artists of the children, but are striving to train them that they may go through life with eyes open to the beauty and worth in common things and in nature, which so many pass by without observing, thus losing much real enjoyment and pleasure in life. This is more on the side of æsthetic training, one of the most valuable of the functions of an art course in public schools. This training broadens the perception and quickens the insight, making them greater men and women. It has been pointed out by writers on education that æsthetic culture is a valuable aid to moral culture, that a child who can calmly contemplate and admire a beautiful object is the better prepared for appreciating human actions on the moral side.

During the spring and fall our time was devoted to careful drawing and color study from nature. These drawings supply material for the work in design.

There is no better time for constructive work than the Christmas season, and at this time each pupil constructed and decorated some object, in most cases useful, to give to some one at home. Portfolios, clipping cases, address books, scissor cases, boxes, calendars, baskets, etc., were made.

During the winter months object drawing is taken up, with the study of foreshortening and convergence or perspective in the upper grades.

From observation and experiment the leading educators have found that free imaginative, illustrative work is what should be given in the lower grades. This will develop the power of self-expression before the age of self-consciousness holds the child back. Dr. G. Stanley Hall, of Clark University, speaks of this pictorial drawing as the "golden age of drawing."

We will soon begin a course in landscape drawing, which, it is hoped, will readily correlate with the study of geography and language.

A good number of pupils in the High School are taking drawing, and almost without exception show great interest in the work. We are following a regular course of study. In the High School we are working with very limited accommodations.

I hope that we may soon have the suitable materials and carry out our designs along the lines of the Arts and Crafts. Much of the success of our work is due to the hearty co-operation of the superintendent, principal and teachers.

Trusting that our work during the coming year may be much in advance of what we have done this year, I respectfully submit my report.

MAUDE E. BLACK,

Supervisor of Drawing.

REPORT OF THE SUPERVISOR OF MANUAL TRAINING.

To the Superintendent of Schools:

At your request I submit this brief report of the work of my classes in Manual Training for the past year. These classes have been made up of boys from the seventh, eighth and ninth grades with the boys and girls of the first year in the high school. Wood working has been the basis of our work, and we have accomplished quite a little in metal work with the girls of the first year in high school. The pupils have either made their models from designs made in their drawing lesson or from blue prints given them, and in either case accurate measurements have been required. Each pupil has been obliged to use his own judgment in estimating the amount of lumber to be used in making his model. The exercises have been so introduced as to secure needed practice without monotony, and the objects made have been of such interest to the pupil that he has voluntarily put forth the effort required in the exercise. Pine and white wood have furnished the greater part of our material, and we have been able to get a few of the other native woods as best suited the character of the objects made. The pupils have proceeded from simple exercises to more difficult ones, thus showing the progression in their work. Sometimes it has been a difficult matter to lead the pupils to see the necessity of accuracy and good workmanship, but in most cases we have developed the preference for quality rather than quantity. While we cannot require perfect work, yet we always demand the best work of which the pupil is capable, and many times it has seemed advisable to accept rather unsatisfactory work. As in other years, whenever a pupil has wished to make a special model, he has furnished his own material, and it has been interesting to note the economy in cutting out his pieces. Great care has been shown in reproducing the usual sloyd models, and we have had some very good results. Skill in handling tools comes only with practice, and where many were unable to control their muscles at first now we see a decided change and feel that we have gained something in this way. The pupils during the past year have been more careful of their positions while at work at their benches, and we feel they have been helped more than by any form of gymnastics.

During the summer our room was enlarged and electric lights placed at intervals about the room. This was a much needed improvement, as in our work good light is most essential, and we are very grateful for all that tends to help along our work. We now have twenty-two sloyd benches, and our classes are constantly increasing in numbers, so that our room is none too large now. It gives me pleasure to be able to say that the spirit, interest and results obtained from the pupils have noticeably improved during the year. The boys of the first year class in High School have continued a more advanced course in woodworking, while the girls of the same class have continued their course in metal work. This metal work consists in the making of models from heavy copper and brass. Great interest has been shown in the making of their models and some very good pieces have been finished, such as paper knives, bowls, belt pins and watch fobs. The girls certainly deserve great credit for their effort and the work done, as they have not had any previous training of their hands, and in many cases it has been a struggle to obtain good results.

We feel that manual training has not only helped the pupils in their woodworking, but in their regular work as well, and in many cases it has been the means of keeping them from leaving school. There has been a perceptible increase in the pride shown by the pupils in their work, and we feel that the majority have done the best that lies within them.

We are glad to welcome visitors to the manual training room at any time, and we hope that the parents will examine our work whenever it is convenient for them to do so. I appreciate all that has been done in making this department a success.

Respectfully submitted,

ANNIE B. WHIDDEN,

Supervisor of Manual Training.

REPORT OF STAMP SAVINGS SOCIETY.

The Stamp Savings Bank is being conducted this year at the Osgood school as it has been for the last five years.

Miss Fox's grade saved from January, 1910, to January, 1911, $33.08.

From October, 1910, to January, 1911, Miss Fox's grade saved $21.24; Miss Harrison's, $12.77, and Miss Morse's, $10.55.

Those who take advantage of this bank should be very grateful to Mr. and Mrs. William H. Brown, who got together the capital for the bank and who pay the expense of carrying it on.

It is gratifying that the Osgood school can receive the advantage of this bank, which is possible to only a few schools of its size.

Respectfully submitted,

BESSIE LORD TOWER.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTORS OF THE PAUL PRATT MEMORIAL LIBRARY.

In presenting to the Town their annual report, the directors of the Paul Pratt Memorial Library note with satisfaction the increasing use of the Library, especially by the young people of the town. This is due in a large measure to the effective co-operation of the teachers in the schools with the librarians, to stimulate an increasing interest along the lines of good reading.

To this end, effort is continually being made to bring to the attention of the young people the best books which the library contains, and the proportion of juvenile readers and the high standard of juvenile reading are very gratifying to the directors.

The number and value of the books in the library increases steadily and the careful and intelligent work of the book-committee has resulted in a library which compares very favorably with those in many larger towns.

Effort is also being made, and will be continued, to extend the range of library circulation to the full reasonable limits, so that books may be brought to the direct notice and the convenient use of all the inhabitants of the town who wish to avail themselves of the privilege.

A full account of the actual library work is contained in the detailed report of the Librarian which is subjoined, a careful comparison of the adult and juvenile reading being a new and interesting feature, and a valuable record for future reference.

Respectfully submitted,
THE DIRECTORS OF THE PAUL
PRATT MEMORIAL LIBRARY.

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT.

To the Directors of the Paul Pratt Memorial Library:

The following is a report of the work in the library for the year ending December 31, 1910:

The library has been open every library day in the year with the exception of nine days for stock taking and three holidays. An inventory has been taken, and we find the books in good condition. Last January three books were missing, two juveniles and Gardiner's Student's History of England; this January we find one missing, which is Bryce's American Commonwealth, first volume.

Special lists of good books have been prepared for the different grades in the Osgood School, and a method has been established of carrying books to and from the school for the children who come from Beechwood, King Street and North Cohasset. That, and the giving of certificates for reading a certain number of books from the lists, has increased the use of the juvenile department to a great extent. A separate record has been kept of juvenile reading since March.

The experiment has been tried during the summer of having a duplicate number of certain of the most popular works of current fiction, which rented at two cents a day. Financially it was a success; the books paid for themselves with one exception, and two more than doubled the price of the book. But I think it did not meet with sufficient favor with the majority to warrant keeping it up during the winter.

Gifts of books and magazines have been received from Messrs. E. S. Abbott, F. J. Salvador, H. B. Tower, B. C. Tower, E. H. Tower, W. S. Kemeys, Caleb Nichols, James-Longley, H. W. Wadleigh, J. C. Melvin, Sir E. Durning-Lawrence, Mrs. T. F. Richardson, Mrs. A. S. Bigelow, Mrs. John Richardson, Mrs. J. S. Bigelow, Mrs. W. L. Parker, Mrs. G. G. Crocker, Committee on Town History, Thomas Lothrop Chapter, D. A. R., State and Government, and pieces of music from Miss Parker. A bust has been presented by Mr. C. G. Fall as a memorial to his son, Fabian Fall.

Report of children's reading from lists, mentioned above, for four months from February 1st to June 1st, 1910: The required number of books to be read during this portion of the school year for winning a "Certificate of Good Reading" was five. Some of the children read only the required number, while others were sufficiently interested to read many more. Those members of the ninth grade who used the lists did not care for the certificates and none were given them, but the following table will show the reading done in the lower grades:

REPORT FOR SUPPRESSING GYPSY AND BROWN TAIL MOTHS.

The work of repairing the orchards was continued the past year, but not as much was done as should have been owing to the large amount of bad weather. This work is most productive of good results in the present condition of the town of any of the methods employed, for once repaired the annual expense in the care of the trees is reduced to a minimum. This work must be continued until all infested places are repaired.

We were also able to reduce the number of trees bur-lapped to about 10,000, due to the cleaning of orchards. This reduction will continue as the other places are finished. All street trees were sprayed and roadsides in the vicinity of bad colonies.

There has been a decided increase of calls from owners of infested property to spray portions of their estates, the expense of which has been borne by them. This has been of great assistance to the department in preventing the spreading of bad colonies.

The entire residential section of the town and the wood-sides were inspected in October and November, and showed a decided improvement in the general condition of these sections. There was no stripping of trees by caterpillars in the residential sections, but there was a much increased area in the woodlands. This, however, was expected, and will continue as the value of the woods will not pay for the expense of protection.

Considerable work has been done by the owners in the wooded areas, particularly in the shore sections, in the line of thinning out the underbrush and trees, which has gone far towards protecting the valuable shore properties. This work is of the greatest value, and it is hoped will be continued farther.

There was a considerable flight of brown tail moth from outside the town last summer and there are many more webs than last year. The work of removing these is now in progress. The parasite colonies planted by the State Department has shown a great benefit already, and we have hopes that this will increase in the future.

In addition to the work done by the town the summer residents contributed a considerable sum to care for the sides of the drives about Howe's Road and Turkey Hill, and the borders of the woodland colonies near Lambert's Lane, work which from a purely business standpoint could not be done from the town appropriation. The expense of this work cost nearly $2,000.

The State Forestry Department assumed the expense of spraying these places.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture also thinned the roadsides on both sides of Forest avenue to prevent distribution.

An appropriation of $3,550 is recommended for the coming year. As soon as the the work of cleaning up the residential section is completed the appropriation may be decreased, but it is of vital necessity that it be continued at present.

Owing to the fact that the State Forester's supply house has furnished nearly all supplies the past year outside of the town allotment the expense of the work is considerably reduced. This will probably be continued as long as the town is receiving reimbursement from the State.

TREE WARDEN'S REPORT.

The work of pruning old trees was continued, also the planting of young trees as in former years. There was also planted on the Osgood School lot last spring one good-sized maple tree, replacing one that died the previous year.

However, most of the money was used for spraying elm trees for the elm beetle, and there were a number that were not sprayed owing to the lack of funds, and as the elm beetle is one of the worst problems we have to contend with I trust there will be some provision made to have them all sprayed next season. Therefore, I recommend that the sum of $600 be raised for the Tree Warden's Department, to be used the ensuing year.

The following is a list of amounts paid for labor, trees, teaming, poison, etc. :

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF ENGINEERS FOR THE YEAR ENDING DEC. 31, 1910.

To the Selectmen;

GENTLEMEN : — The gentlemen appointed by your Honorable Board to constitute the Board of Fire Engineers for the year ending April 30, 1911, met in accordance with your instructions and organized as follows: Chief, H. E. Mapes; Assistant Chief, H. E. Brennock; District Chief, (North District) J. S. Beal; District Chief, (South District) George Jason; District Chief (Beechwood District) Elmer E. Bates; Clerk, Elmer E. Bates. The past year has been above the average for the number of alarms, to which the department has responded, there being twenty-eight in all, a few of which were severe fires, but prompt and efficient service rendered by members of this Department succeeded in extinguishing the same with small loss.

We have from time to time, and have each year in our report recommended that a modern piece of fire apparatus be installed in a proper building located in the centre of the town, and would this year earnestly recommend that some action be taken by the town at its annual meeting in March.

The two buildings at the harbor are in need of very extensive repairs and it is the opinion of this Board that the time has arrived when the town should install modern apparatus in proper quarters for the better protection of its property.

There is also need for a larger Hose Wagon in the Beechwood District and the Department needs additional hose to properly equip it.

The fire alarm service has been hindered during the past year by the growth of trees on our streets where the wires run, interfering with the wires and short-circuiting and grounding the system, and in two instances breaking the wires entirely. For the operation and maintenance of the Fire Department for the ensuing year we would respectfully recommend the appropriation of $2,500 at the annual meeting of the town in March next.

This appropriation is based as follows :

Maintenance and operation . . . . .	$1,500 00
1000 feet 2½ in. hose . . . . .	700 00
2 new fire alarm boxes . . . . .	250 00
Clearing fire alarm line . . . . .	50 00

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

The Board of Health respectfully submit the following report :

Complaints of nuisances, which have been numerous, about eighty in all, have been investigated during the year. We have ordered improvements made, and in some cases have had to be very persistent in order to enforce our regulations.

Notable improvements in the sanitary arrangements of sewerage have been made in some of the tenements occupied by our residents. It is very surprising to see the very unsanitary conditions which exist in some of the residences of the town. It has been proved to the Board that there are a great many places in our midst which need to be investigated and improvements made.

Licenses to collect swill and keep piggeries have been issued. This gives the Board a better opportunity to keep these things under our observation and control.

The entrance of overflow sewage into James Brook has been practically stopped. This year we shall complete the work. All who live near this as well as other waterways must be persuaded to build water-tight cesspools or construct proper filter beds. A freer flow of the brook should be obtained at once by blasting out the ledge under South Main street.

A milk inspector was appointed this year for the first time, but as there was no appropriation for this work but little could be done in this line.

The inspection of the milk supply of our town is a vital matter and should receive strict attention. We need clean milk, healthy cows, clean and well ventilated stables and milk rooms. These can be obtained by inspection, co-operation and education.

The meat inspector has carried out a rigid inspection of slaughtered animals. One hundred carcasses were inspected, two of which were condemned, seized and buried. The present law requires all pigs or cattle slaughtered to be inspected and that the inspector shall be present at the time of slaughter.

The matter of suppressing the fly nuisance by having all garbage and manure pits properly covered or screened is a matter which we hope to give our attention the coming year. It has been proved that flies are the carriers of filth and disease, therefore they should be fought against,

The condition of Straits Pond during the past warm season was a very great annoyance to the people who live in that vicinity. Owing to there being no dam to keep the water at a proper level a great part of the flats was not properly covered with water; this allowed a great deal of the vegetable growth which grows on the flats to become very offensive.

We were forced to remove as much of this growth as possible and the residents near there petitioned this Board for a hearing on the matter which was held. We were urged at that time to immediately start or recommend some thing which would permanently remedy the condition which existed the past summer.

The State Board of Health have at different times investigated this nuisance, and they recommend two ways of getting rid of it. One is to lay pipes directly from the ocean across the road, and so flush out the pond. If this should fail, they say the pond should be dredged and the bottom of the pond covered with sand. Of course either of these plans would call for a large outlay of money by the Town.

Since the hearing there have been gates erected which keep the water in the pond at a higher level than ever before, and we must give this method a proper trial before we decide to recommend any other way. If all the sewerage can be kept out of the pond we shall make a long stride in the matter of improving the sanitation of this beautiful body of water.

The Board must have sufficient funds supplied to carry out reasonable ways of suppressing nuisances which exist in any place in the town; it may be necessary in some instances to apply the power which is vested in us.

WARREN F. SNOW,
IRVING F. SYLVESTER.

COHASSET, MASS., Feb. 4, 1911.

TO THE CITIZENS OF COHASSET:

The following is my report as Highway Surveyor for the year ending December 31, 1910:

Owing to the storms of December 24th and 25th, 1909, considerable damage was done on Border street, Atlantic avenue and Jerusalem road. The work on repairing these streets was commenced March 9th, and continued until it was completed, at a cost of about $1,000. About April 1st, general repairs on highways and sidewalks were commenced. Sidewalks were built in the centre of the town: on Summer, Border and South Main streets. Work was done on Beechwood, Church and Doane streets, the greater part consisting of repairs on Beechwood street, in the hollow between the residences of Mr. Lot W. Bates and Mr. Spencer H. Stoughton. General repairs were made on other portions of this street. About the same amount should be done this year, as this is a traveled street to a greater extent than is generally realized. Sohier, Pond and King streets received attention, particularly the latter, which was straightened in front of the residence of Mr. Samuel G. James, by taking a portion of his land, which he kindly donated to the town. Especial care was taken of the repairs on Jerusalem road and Atlantic avenue, as they are constantly subjected to heavy traffic, besides the wear and tear caused by automobiles which pass in greatest numbers over these streets.

Through the kindness of Mr. Horace W. Wadleigh, the junction of Jerusalem road with Forest avenue was transformed into a triangular park of considerable beauty, and the road bordering the same was built at about one-third of what it would have otherwise cost the town. This expense, however, was unexpected and no especial provision had been made for it.

General repairs were made on Forest Ave., North and South Main Sts., and considerable work was done on Parker Ave. and Bow St.

Lincoln Hillside and Pleasant St. also received attention. Beach and Stockbridge Sts. should be looked after this year, as both require widening and re-gravelling. It has been proven that a gravelled road properly constructed and maintained outlasts stone roads, with less expense. There is also the great advantage that a much larger amount of money can thus be left in town, in teaming, labor and gravel, to the material benefit of our citizens.

The amount of oil and tarvia placed on our streets the past year was over 40% in excess of the previous year. The expense of spreading and handling the same was paid out of the street appropriation, an additional expense of about $600. Great care was used in placing this material, one-half the road being covered at a time, and while the expense of spreading was increased to a large extent, it resulted in not having a single complaint of damage or annoyance by tarvia or oil. That this condition has not obtained in surrounding towns is well known. It might be added that your Highway Surveyor has been the recipient of several inquiries as to our method of spreading this material and it has been followed by other towns, in many instances in preference to any other.

Owing to the expense due to the storm of 1909, the increased amount of tarvia and oil spread, a 12% increase in cost of teaming, and the fact that no provision had been made for these items, the appropriation was exceeded by a trifle less than $2000.

In conclusion, I wish to thank the citizens for their interest in my work and their help in many instances, and to assure them that it has been my constant effort to make our streets compare favorably with those of any other town.

Yours respectfully,

GEORGE JASON,

Highway Surveyor.

REPORT OF THE FINANCE COMMITTEE.

REPORT OF COHASSET FINANCE COMMITTEE.

COHASSET, February 7, 1911.

To the Citizens of Cohasset:

The Finance Committee presents herewith its annual report for the year 1910.

The usual appropriations for the year having been voted previous to the organization of this committee, those submitted for its approval were confined to articles in the warrants for the special Town meetings held on July 9 and September 8.

Your committee since its organization has held monthly meetings. It early appointed sub-committees, assigning to each various departments of the Town to investigate. These sub-committees presented their reports at the regular meetings of the committee, when they were fully discussed. In this way your committee has undertaken to examine the work done by the various Town departments, taken in connection with the amount expended by each. It is impressed in some instances with the lack of business methods.

While we appreciate that this lack of business management where it appears may be due in part to the survival of antiquated customs, we believe that every department of the Town should now be put on a business basis.

Our idea of a business basis is a consistent and at the same time an intelligent economy wherein the Town meets in a liberal and progressive spirit all reasonable demands for appropriations for objects old and new as they arise. But this is not all. It must also include the expenditure of all Town funds with a full appreciation of the purpose to be accomplished and with the assurance that the Town receive a fair equivalent for its money spent.

The first step to put the Town on a business basis lies with its citizens. They must really want it put on that basis. That an accomplished fact, the rest is easy.

A striking example of the method or lack of method referred to above is found in the Poor Department, where the cost of caring for the poor is clearly excessive.

The reports of the 353 towns and cities in the Commonwealth show that in the year 1908 the cost of the care of the poor per inhabitant was greater in Cohasset than in any other town in the State. In 1909 only two other towns — one with a population of 101 and the other with 885 — reported as large a per capita cost.

Coming nearer home, of the towns in Norfolk County Cohasset stands by itself, with an expense of 400 per cent., or four times more than the average.

The comparative cost of support of the poor in the neighboring towns of Hingham and Scituate, together with the two Counties and State, is shown by the following table :

Massachusetts, per inhabitant . . .	$ 71	} State Board of Charities Report of 1910.
Norfolk County, per inhabitant . . .	73
Plymouth County, per inhabitant . . .	79
Hingham, per inhabitant . . .	1 50	} Charities Report of 1910.
Scituate, per inhabitant . . .	1 81
Cohasset, per inhabitant . . .	2 95

The reports of the Overseers of the Poor of Hingham and Cohasset show the comparative cost per year of caring for each inmate in the Hingham Almshouse and in the Cohasset Home to be as follows :

Hingham . . . . .	$181 00
Cohasset . . . . .	447 00

The cost of the support of the poor in Cohasset for the past six years is given below :

		Town Farm net expense.	Outside poor net expense.	Total net cost of poor.
1905	. .	$2,499 27	$4,513 15	$7,012 42
1906	. .	2,833 00	4,800 00	7,633 00
1907	. .	5,530 00	3,578 00	9,108 00
1908	. .	4,200 00	4,638 00	8,838 00
1909	. .	4,026 00	3,984 00	8,010 00
1910	. .	3,493 94	4,129 26	7,623 20

(The Cohasset Home was opened in 1907.)

The figures showing the cost of maintaining the Cohasset Home nowhere in this report include interest or depreciation charges amounting to at least $1,500 a year. $14,000 of the original cost of the Cohasset Home is still unpaid, represented by outstanding notes of the town.

We realize that the Overseers of the Poor are confronted with a difficult problem, and grant that customs which have prevailed for many years may be in a large measure responsible for the exorbitant cost of poor-relief in the town. The figures quoted, however, prove conclusively that the time has arrived when a radical change in the administration of the Poor Department is imperative.

There are no special difficulties in Cohasset regarding the poor. On the contrary, our town is exempt from many of the problems that arise in towns which depend mainly upon manufacturing.

Putting one side the expenses of the Cohasset Home, shown above, the cost of the outside aid alone in 1907	was	$1.37	per	inhabitant.

1908	“	1.78	“	“
1909	“	1.53	“	“

These figures show that the cost per inhabitant in Cohasset for outside aid alone is about twice the average cost per inhabitant in all the towns and cities of the Commonwealth for their entire expense of caring for their poor.

We call your attention to the expense in Cohasset compared with that of the following towns, nearly all of which are residential and, generally speaking, similar to Cohasset :

Town.	Population.	Expense per inhabitant in 1909.
Concord . . . .	5,421	$0 78
Holbrook . . . .	2,509	56
Fairhaven . . . .	4,235	70
Lenox . . . .	3,058	84
Manchester . . . .	2,618	96
Marion . . . .	1,029	1 08
Cohasset . . . .	2,727	2 95

(The towns of Concord, Fairhaven and Manchester have almshouses. The other towns, with the exception of Cohasset, have none.)

Your committee believes that the town should treat its poor with consideration and sympathy. It is not in favor of withholding aid from any worthy person. Firmly believing that the deserving poor should be assisted, each according to his need, the question now is,

How best to prevent suffering without being imposed upon and, while aiding those in actual want, to encourage a spirit of self-respect and independence.

Looking simply at the financial side of the problem, the above figures show that the town in support of its poor is spending four times the average, about equally divided between the Cohasset Home and the outside aid.

In order that the expense of caring for the poor may be reduced to a reasonable basis, your committee is of the opinion that the Town should now adopt one of the two following plans :

(A) To discontinue outside relief entirely and place all applicants for assistance (except those prohibited by law) in the Cohasset Home, or

(B) To close the Cohasset Home and sell the same.

Much time and thought have been devoted to this subject by your committee. It is convinced that to do away with outside aid would be a serious mistake both on moral and financial grounds.

It is well known that many of the worthy poor will undergo privations and actual suffering rather than be subject to the odium attaching to an occupant of the poorhouse. It would be a shame to compel an old woman to go to the poorhouse, when she could be boarded among her kindred or friends for one-third of the expense it would cost the town to keep her at the Cohasset Home. Moreover, the money so paid may do double duty; it supports her and often materially assists her kindred and friends.

Careful investigation shows that in many towns which have adopted modern methods of caring for their poor the tendency today is opposed to maintaining large and expensive almshouses where fixed charges—service, heating, lighting, and interest—necessarily make the expense of caring for a small number of inmates excessive. More than 100 towns have no poorhouse. Many have obtained excellent results by boarding out their poor, under proper supervision.

It must never be forgotten that the mere distribution of town money is but one phase of the problem.

Well-administered poor relief, just to the tax payer and beneficial to the applicant, rests mainly upon proper supervision. There should be some one in the town who can and will investigate thoroughly each case when assistance is applied for, and from time to time thereafter.

To grant aid and obtain the best results for the money spent requires more thought, patience and care than is reasonable to expect under the administration of town officials already burdened with other town affairs.

We therefore believe that the town should employ a paid trained agent.

Such an agent, perhaps a woman, can know each family personally, can understand their individual wants, can see to it that the aid granted is spent for the things they really need, and more than all, by encouragement and sympathy can give them that uplift that alone can start them anew on a life of self-respect and independence.

What an agent can accomplish is shown in Milton. In that town, for five years from 1899 to 1903, the average annual expenditure for the support of poor was $10,649. In 1903 an agent was employed. From 1903 to 1907 this amount was reduced to $7,093 per year. In 1909, Milton, with a population of 7,054, spent $5,786; while Cohasset, with a population of 2,727, spent $8,010.

In view of all of the above facts and the existing situation in Cohasset, your Committee recommends:

(First) That all financial aid to the poor hereafter granted by the town be outside aid, to be expended upon the advice of a trained paid agent, and (Second) That the town discontinue the use of the Cohasset Home and sell said Home and the land connected therewith as soon as it reasonably can.

We realize that the sale of a comparatively new building costing $25,000, appears somewhat radical. Although the town will undoubtedly be obliged to make a considerable loss, we are still convinced that the closing and sale of the Cohasset Home is the most practical way out of an unfortunate situation. For it is certain that the expense of caring for the poor can never in this town be reduced to a reasonable basis so long as this unnecessarily large and costly institution is maintained.

Your Committee recommends that an inventory of all the material on hand Dec. 31, 1911, in each department, be printed in the Town Report for that year, and that the date of purchase be included on all articles costing $25 or over.

The report of the Committee, with its recommendations regarding the appropriations for the ensuing year, will be mailed to all voters previous to the annual March meeting.

A list of the expenses of the Committee for the past year is included below in Appendix A.

Some misapprehension appears to exist regarding the duties of this Committee when an appropriation which it has approved comes before a town meeting to be acted upon.

It is the opinion of the Committee that the persons responsible for the insertion in the warrant of an article calling for an appropriation should be prepared to state their reasons therefor in Town Meeting, and that the approval of this Committee in no way relieves them of that responsibility.

Our views on the unbusiness-like methods this year in force in the Highway Department were set forth in our report of July 7, 1910, a copy of which was mailed to each voter. Further comment at this time would seem unnecessary.

Longer study of the town affairs has but strengthened our opinion expressed in our first report:—

"Your Committee, therefore, emphatically states that for the good of the Town all offices should be filled by men of unquestioned experience and with ability to plan the work they have to do, so it can be completed within the appropriation allotted to them."

In conclusion, we ask each citizen to remember that he is a part of the Town, that its government rests in part upon his shoulders, and that only by all working together, each contributing his share, can we hope to solve the problems of the present and the future.
